STRATTON HITS SPENDING

Take it from Here

POLITICAL NOTES FROM A REPORTER'S CUFF—The Stratton entourage, scheduled to appear at the Amboy Fall festival this afternoon, bedded down at the historic Nachusa House last night.

Could it be that the old hostelry, a shelter for so many dignitaries of the past, some of them before they became presidents or governors, has housed another governor?

REPORTERS who saw, and heard, Bill Stratton, claim that he's far more effective from the platform than over the radio. His voice is too young, they say, for straight broadcasts. His appearance at Oregon unveiled him as a vigorous, effective campaigner.

* * *

IT WAS A touching scene when Lt. Gov. Dixon and his law partner, Atty. John Devine, met at the outskirts of Dixon yesterday. Atty. Devine, former speaker of the House, is credited by many as the inspirational guidance back of the Dixon's political career. It was a proud day, then, for the venerable Atty. Devine, when his protege returned home as the state's leading Democrat.

Yet their meeting was quite causal and jovial.

The first words Dixon tossed at Devine, were,

"How's business?"

And is everyone chuckled, the white-haired attorney, replied.

"There's too darned much business."

Atty. Devine was referring to political hangers-on who were already besieging the Dixon-Devine office for favors, advertising and other offers.

* * *

THE LIEUTENANT governor has a speaking date in Peoria today—one he made many months ago "before some historical society"—and then will return here for a few days rest before plunging into the campaign. As can be seen, the Republican campaign is on in earnest and Dixon, adjudged as relatively "unknown" in some quarters of the state, will have to move quickly to catch up.

* * *

WILLIAM STRATTON and Sherwood Dixon missed by 15 minutes of crossing the other's paths here yesterday.

Republican Stratton, on his way to the Oregon rally from the Whiteside county fair in Morrison, passed through Dixon about 5:15 p. m. Democrat Dixon arrived about 5 p. m. He didn't get into the business district until about 5:30 because of the city limits' ceremonies and picture taking.

"I would have stopped in Dixon," said Stratton last night, "But I saw it was his day and came right on up here (to Oregon)."

Stratton was scheduled to move out into Dixon today for a handshaking tour before going to Amboy this afternoon.

* * *

In Dixon, some spectators were slightly miffed over the speed of the motorcade that brought the lieutenant governor through the business district to John Dixon park.

Said one businessman: "I had my store closed for about an hour. I waited on the street corner, and then they went by so fast I didn't have time to get a picture."

It was originally announced that the parade would move slowly but that was changed when the lieutenant governor began to worry about arriving in Amboy in time for his 8 p. m. engagement.

* * *

At least one Barrett backer is back in the fold. Rep. Hugh Considine, Dixon, who made no bones about it that he wacking Barrett on the strength "that he was a better vote getter," appeared in the motorcade and also on the Amboy speaking platform with the lieutenant governor. Considine, a Democrat, has not been exactly a political friend of Dixon, a something that the local Democrats profess not to understand.

* * *

Dixon who failed to carry his home town in the 1948 election, indicated to a reporter here last night that he expected to carry Dixon in the November election.

He said:

"If even half of the people vote for me who welcomed me home this afternoon, I'll be assured of carrying it."

Shotgun Murderer Gets 1-14 Years

HARRISBURG, Ill.—(AP)—Circuit Judge C. Ross Reynolds has sentenced Elmer Dooley, 68, to one to 14 years in the state penitentiary in the shotgun slaying of Jesse Feazel June 4.

Dooley, originally charged with murder, pleaded guilty Friday to a manslaughter charge.

Rader Must Quit, Says Attorney General

Ogle Board Head Can't Hold Post

Liquor Control Board to Probe Case on Monday

OREGON—Attorney General Ivan Elliott has ruled that Everett Rader, Kings, Ill., chairman of the Ogle county board of supervisors and Democratic precinct committeeman from White Rock township, cannot legally hold his county job as ex-officio chairman of the county liquor commission and continue as a beer distributor in the Rochelle-Oregon area.

In so doing, Elliott cited a paragraph from the Illinois Revised statutes which The Telegraph quoted yesterday.

In so doing, Elliott cited a para graph from the Illinois Revised statues which The Telegraph quoted yesterday.

Another Ruling

Along with Elliott, Atty. Louis Biro, Chicago, employed by the Illinois Liquor Commission, said that Rader is violating the law which provides that a county official cannot be directly or indirectly interested in the distribution of liquor.

Biro said that Rader's case would go under investigation Monday at the state liquor control commission office in Springfield.

Ogle County State's Atty. Wayne Bettner said today that he had not seen Elliott's ruling and that he would reserve judgment on what to do until he talked with the attorney general.

"I don't know if we would revoke his (Rader's) license, if there is a penalty, or what to do. I have not had time to study the case, but I plan on doing so this weekend," Bettner said.

Rader Advised

Rader said he had been told of the law section, Chapter 43, paragraph 120, subparagraph 14, a few days ago. He said he had read it at that time and thought that it concerned only the isuance of licenses.

Rader has told The Telegraph repeatedly that he will not and has not any intention of resigning from his post.

Yesterday, concerning Rader's connection with the county beer tie-up, The Telegraph cited the section which stated that no county official "shall be interested in any way, either directly or indirectly, in the manufacture, sale or distribution of alcoholic liquor."

Brush Aside Peace Hint By Commies

WASHINGTON — (AP) — North Korea's expressed hope for a nobody-wins armistice has been brushed aside by the State department as an empty gesture.

Prime Minister Kim Il Sung of North Korea, in a speech carried by the Pyongyang radio, said:

"We hope to get an armistice agreement wherein there is neither victor nor vanquished."

This interested United Nations diplomats, looking for a break in the Panmunjom truce talks which have dragged on for 18 months.

But the State department saw nothing new in Kim's speech. It issued a statement Friday.

Rites for Mrs. Leake Will Be Held Monday

Mrs. Frank Philpott, of 521 Peoria av., whose sister, Mrs. Charles. Leake died recently in California, will arrive in Dixon at noon today.

The body of Mrs. Leake will reach Dixon at 1 p. m. today. Services will be held at the Peoria avenue home at 3 p. m. Monday. The Rev. Vernon L. S. Jones, pastor of St. Luke's Episcopal church will officiate. Mrs. Leake was the daughter of the late E. W. Smith, a prominent Dixonite.

Lt. Gov. Sherwood Dixon Comes Home; Gets Warm Welcome From Neighbors

Lt. Gov. Sherwood Dixon, now candidate for governor, came home from Springfield yesterday to the folks who call him "Sherwood."

And, standing on a platform in the park his great-great grandfather gave to the city a century ago, he said simply:

"The finest thing a person can have on this earth is that his conduct can merit the approbation of his neighbors."

His folksy talk climaxed a parade down Galena avenue, lined with Dixonites who offered a friendly wave to the lieutenant-governor and his family as they were swept toward the reception at the park.

Mrs. Dixon, smiling, thrilled, held a bunch of roses. The "kids," who are considered a political asset to the lieutenant governor, acted just like kids. They waved boisterously to their playmates and school chums along the way.

Introduced by Mayor

Mayor William Slothower introduced the Democratic candidate by saying, "Based upon the knowledge and belief of a large number of our citizens, his party could have selected no one of greater integrity, with a higher code of ethics and more aware of the requirements that should be met by those serving the public as officials and employes."

Lt. Gov. Dixon, was obviously pleased with the reception, although tired and "rumpled," as he termed it, from the hectic days immediately following his selection as the Democratic candidate.

He confided to his neighbors that it "was a warm week at the state fair." Then he added with a smirk, "Other things took place there, too, that didn't lower the temperature any."

That was a reference to the heated contest he waged with Secretary of State Edward J. Barret for the nomination. It was a breach in the state Democratic circles that party leaders are now attempting to cement.

Issues Statement

In the main, his talk was entirely devoid of politics. It was an expression of gratefulness to the hometown for the spirit and warmth of the reception.

In a statement issued today, the Democratic candidate said:

"Every member of our family wishes to express thanks to the city council, the Senior and Junior chambers of commerce, the veteran's societies and all of the good people of Dixon for the overwhelming reception tendered to us on re-

TO TOUR U. S.

OSLO—(AP)—Norwegian Prime Minister Oscar Torp will arrive in New York Sept. 9 for a three-week visit to the United States, it was officially announced today.

The Norwegian government chief will tour Norwegian-American districts in the Middle West before going to Washington Sept. 22.

GOP Candidates in Oregon

Chatting at the Oregon Country club during a reception before going to the Oregon Coliseum, were Mr. and Mrs. William Stratton and others high in the district's GOP campaign. Seated, left to right, are Mrs. Albert Madlener, Oregon, president of the Ogle County Women's Republican club, Bill Stratton and Mrs. Stratton. At the rear are Judge Latham Castle, Sandwich, DeKalb county judge and candidate for attorney general, and Rep. Leo Allen, Galena Republican representative from the 16th district.

Adlai Says Divorce Not Vote Factor

NEW YOR — (AP) — Gov. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois says he does not think his divorce hurts his chances for the presidency.

Look magazine recently published an article entitled, "Can a Divorced Man Be Elected President?"

The magazine made public yesterday a letter from Stevenson, dated Aug. 8, which read:

"I assume that if my divorce had been any great political hazard the Democratic party would hardly have nominated me.

"Nor had I felt that it constituted any hazard. Which is not to say that my misfortune is any the easier to bear or that I approve of divorce. Indeed, I think one of the healthiest things that could happen to America would be a sharp decline in the appalling divorce rate."

Stevenson and his wife, the former Ellen Borden, were divorced three years ago after 20 years of marriage.

State Treasurer Bill Stratton, as he appeared on the platform in the Oregon Coliseum last night when he launched a vigorous attack on Democratic corruption and spending.

Barrett-Dixon Rift Is Aid to GOP---Stratton

OREGON—(Special)—William Stratton, Republican candidate for governor, said in an interview here last night that he believed the bitter fight for the Democratic nomination between Lt. Gov. Sherwood Dixon and Secretary of State Edward J. Barrett had helped his campaign "considerably."

"Dixon is the hand-picked candidate of the political bosses," Stratton said. "Barrett obviously was the favorite of the Democratic people."

Here to speak at the Ogle county Republican Women's club rally, Stratton said that Dixon even needed the "votes of a man now under an indictment" to capture the nomination.

* * *

Hereferred to Fredrick P. Wall, the state central committeeman who is under indictment charged with selling post office jobs. Wall had switched his position as a Barrett backer to Dixon shortly before the central committee had taken its vote.

Stratton also commented on Stevenson's state road program. He said that one of the Democrats' first acts after Stevenson became governor was to increase the gas tax and the truck tax but that in the following four years very little has been done.

"They've let more contracts in these past few weeks befor election time than at any other time during his administration," Stratton said.

* * *

Some of the notable comments of the other state speakers went like this:

John William Chapman, Springfield, candidate for lieutenant governor: "Stevenson only cleaned up one thing in Springfield, and that was the state treasury."

Orville E. Hodge, Granite City, candidate for auditor of public accounts: "I would like to be your auditor because I feel in my heart and because I believe that I can save all of us tax money."

Elmer J. Hoffman, Wheaton, candidate for state treasurer: "I saw an advertisement yesterday which read 'Vote Democratic for Peace and Prosperity.' Did they mean the peace under Wilson, the peace under Roosevelt or the peace under Harry Truman?"

* * *

Judge Latham Castle, Sandwich, candidate for attorney general: "We will clean house from the courthouse to the White House."

Rep. Leo Allen, Galena: "It would be well if the Democrats and Adlai Stevenson would ask the fathers, mothers, sisters and brothers . . . who have sons and relatives in Korea if they ever 'had it so good?'"

Committeeman Stanley Guyer: "If each woman's group in the state is one-half as energetic as yours (the Ogle county Republican Women's club) and 25 per cent as charming, it will be a land slide.

"Welcome Home, Lieutenant Governor"

GOP Leader Stirs Rally In Oregon

Corruption Made Issue by Candidate; Cites His Record

OREGON — (Special)—A candidate named Bill Stratton walked into the Coliseum here last night and convinced an estimated 450 Ogle county Republicans that he should be the next governor of Illinois.

Spotlighting an afternoon and evening GOP political rally here, Stratton delivered a anti-Stevenson, anti-Democratic address that set up a several minute ovation for him at the climax.

Hits Spending

Hitting hard at Democratic corruption weaknesses on both the state and national levels, the Republican candidate said he was particularly concerned with slashing excessive spending by the present administration and offered his money-saving record as state treasurer as a cure for the political evil.

"One hundred and fifty three thousand dollars were saved in the treasurer's office last year," Stratton told the crowd, "and the same thing can be done in the governor's office." And then he added: "And it will be done when you elect me as governor of Illinois in November."

Interrupted six times during the short speech by applause, Stratton pounded home his corruption point to the end and concluded with the idea that such corruption could only be wiped out by the Republican party.

The Difference

"The difference between the Republican party and the Democratic party" said the GOP candidate, "is that the Republican party belongs to the people of Illinois and Democratic party belongs to a small group in Chicago headed by Boss Arvey."

His speech was the final of a dozen made by state and county candidates here. Others, who were introduced by John Manning, Rochelle, chairman of the Ogle county Republican committee, were: Orville E. Hodge, Granite City, candidate for auditor of public accounts; Elmer J. Hoffman, Wheaton, candidate for state treasurer; Judge Latham Castle, Sandwich, candidate for attorney general; Rep. Leo Allen, Galena; Stanley Guyer, Rockford, state central committeeman; Charles Baker, state senator; Homer D. Althouse, Oregon, circuit clerk; Wayne R. Betner, Oregon, state's attorney and Rep. Mable Green, Rockford.

Stratton, following his introduction by County Judge Helen Rutkowski, Forreston, immediately launched into an attack on Stevenson's administration.

"Hand-Picked"

While he commented "I don't want to say anything against your neighbor in Lee county," his opponent Lt. Gov. Sherwood Dixon, Stratton did refer to Dixon the "hand-picked" candidate of the "bosses" of the Democratic party.

The claims by Stevenson, Dixon and other Democratic leaders that the present state administration has "saved" rather than "spent," Stratton stated that the Democrats had spent the surplus left in the state treasury under Gov. Green and said that they were now nearing the point where "they will be forced to ask for an increase in taxes."

"Stevenson said he wasn't responsible for what his subordinates did," said Stratton, referring to the scandals during the present state administration. "Well then, who is responsible?"

"When I'm governor," he said, "I'll make sure who those people are. . . and I'll keep my eye on them so that you won't be robbed under Bill Stratton like you were under Adlai Stevenson."

The Result

The scandals, he continued, were

ISN'T THE HEAT

Humidity Can Be Damaging

Moisture condensation has become a distressing problem to owners of the new, well-insulated and vapor-proof houses.

Moisture, checked by vapor barriers and unable to escape through walls and celings or through cracks around windows and doors, as it does in older homes, settles inside.

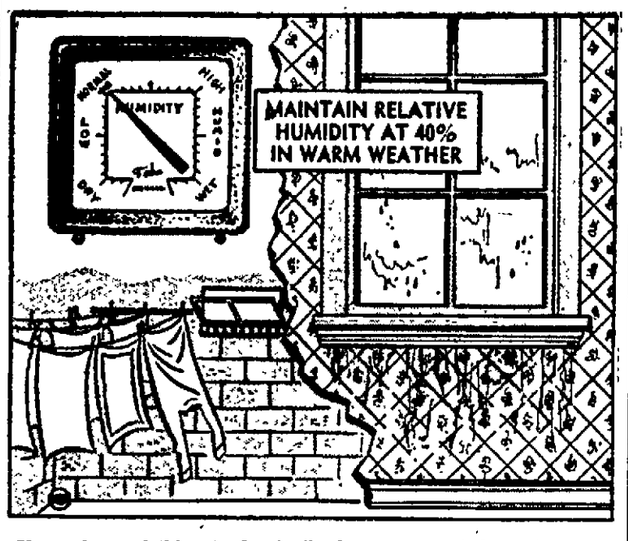

Whereas older homes are liable to damage from condensation within the walls and behind siding—where it may cause paint to peel and interior materials to rot—properly vapor-proofed and insulated homes aren't affected in this way.

Just the same, condensation forms near windows and other cold surfaces—moisture that may ruin draperies, walls below windows and rugs on floors. It may warp doors, drawers and window sash.

* * *

This moisture originates during cooking, laundering, bathing, clothes drying, dishwashing, etc. It is contained in invisible vapor which condenses upon being cooled rapidly.

The problem is to cut down the humidity generated within the house and to let it escape. A certain amount of humidity is necessary for health and comfort, but beyond that amount damage will result.

If you hang clothing to dry in the house, prevent damaging condensation by maintaining humidity at the proper level.

Relative humidity for 70 degrees F. inside temperature should be maintained at not over 40 per cent if outside temperature is above 10 degrees; not over 35 per cent when outside temperature is 10 to 0 degrees; not over 25 per cent at 0 degrees to —10; not over 20 per cent at —10 to —20 degrees; and not over 15 per cent at —20 degrees or below.

Homeowners can buy inexpensive humidity indicators to keep up with humidity changes within their homes.

Here are some other measures to take in control of humidity, to prevent damaging condensation:

1. Control artificial humidification, if such a system is used, by maintaining relative humidity at less than 40 per cent.

2. If clothes are washed and dried inside the house, open windows to allow the moisture to escape.

3. Open windows to give moisture from boiling, cooking or bathing a chance to escape.

4. Since gas liberates much water, be sure gas-burning appliances are properly vented.

* * *

5. Open all basement, attic and crawl-space ventilators, or provide such ventilation if there is none. Minimize moisture in other ways if extreme cold prohibits this precaution.

6. It may be necessary to open bedroom windows or fireplace damper for additional ventilation, even in the winter. But this should be done at night.

7. Fall and spring rains saturate basement walls if proper drainage or water - proofing precautions aren't taken. This moisture will seep into the basement in the winter.

8. Install storm windows if they are not used.

New Bulb Ideal for Closets

Good lighting can be a valuable asset to good grooming.

However, don't expect a regular bare bulb with its blinding harsh lighting to provide the answer to closet lighting needs.

The new 50-GA mushroom-shaped bulb which is a miniature lighting fixture in itself is ideally suited to average-size closets.

This 50-watt bulb with its sepcial shape and finish gives soft, mellow light that requires no shade or shield for eye comfort.

Photography Note: Galvanized Tub Is Good Print Washer

An amateur photographer can keep costs down by making his own equipment. One of the easiest and most useful photo lab items to make is a print washer, and the total cost can be kept to a few dollars.

Materials needed are a galvanized steel tub, a hose adapter, a clincher type hose coupling, a set of oiled leather washers of proper size, and a length of ordinary garden hose long enough to reach the nearest sink or drain. All are available at hardware stores.

Cut a hole in the tub near the top edge big enough to receive the hose adapter. A draw punch is ideal for this, or a ring of small holes can be made with a hand or electric drill and the metal punched out with hammer and cold chisel. At very nominal cost a sheet metal shop will do the job at considerable saving in time and effort, however.

Place one of the oiled washers in postion on the inner side of the hole and insert the hose adapter. The other washer goes on the outer side of the tub. Attach the coupling and hose and the job is done.

Water drains from the print washer through the top edge hole. Another piece of rubber hose carries clear water to the bottom of the tub from a nearby faucet.

The metal known as "tungsten" in the United States is called "wolfram" in many other nations.

Remodeling and Repair to Increase During '52 Year

Home building restrictions due to the national emergency are expected to result in a continuing high level of home modernization and repair in 1952, lumber dealers assert.

Pointing out that this phase of housing industry activity has become a multi-billion dollar business, they say the need for repairing and improving old dwellings increases in volume as construction of new houses falls below the population's normal requirements.

It has been estimated that about 54 per cent, or 23 million, of the nation's 43 million homes are at least 30 years old. In most of those 23 million dwellings few important changes have been made. Generally, the kitchens, bathrooms, heating systems, roofing, exterior siding, and other features are as old as the houses themselves. Relatively few of the dwellings are equipped with such modern improvements as insulation.

With limitations on new home construction in force, many owners of such old homes will decide to modernize them rather than attempt to buy or build new houses. In thus meeting their present needs and desires they also will be increasing the resale value of their homes, dealers point out.

Various home improvements can be financed with three-year FHA-guaranteed loans up to $2,500, with down payments of only 10 per cent. In some cases the improvements are not only moderate in initial cost, but pay for themselves over a short period.

Popcorn pops because it has a hard casing which holds back steam pressure which is built up when the corn is heated until an explosion takes place.

Ventilation Helps Curb Water-Vapor

Whenever a home is being insulated, there should be proper provision for ventilation to let water vapor escape to the outside air in cold weather, it is pointed out by insulation engineers.

Water vapor in the warm air inside the house will condense on cold surfaces, such as outer walls and roofs, in the absence of proper controls, and the water thus formed can cause damage to the structure.

Correct ventilation of the spaces between warm and cold surfaces will let water vapor pass harmlessly to the outside air. One such method is to provide two or more louvers in an attic or crawl space, allowing for at least one square foot of louver area for every 300 square feet of exposed interior surface.

It also may be advisable to increase the ventilation at places where much water vapor originates, like the areas for cooking, washing, clothes drying and bathing.

Condensation also should be combatted with vaporseal on the warm side of the insulation. One type of fiber blanket has an aluminum foil cover laminated to it, the foil serving as a barrier to vapor as well as a reflector of heat. Thus, insulatio nand vaporseal are installed in one operation when this material is used.

Builtin Type Convectors Are Popular

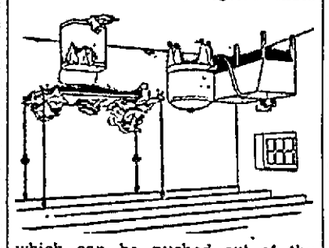

The slim new convectors finding popularity in today's homes are ideally suited for building into cabinets, windows seats, bookcases and other wall units where wall space is limited. All that is needed for the convector to work efficiently is a space at the bottom of the unit where cold air can be drawn in to be heated, and an opening at the top to let the warm air out into the room.

The enclosure, however, should fit tightly so that no air can bypass the heating unit. For best results, call in a qualified heating contractor, who can give you much valuable advice, as well as competent service.

In kitchens, where space often is quite limited, convectors can be built into, or behind, the base cabinets, thus protecting the symmetry of the room without using up valuable floor space. Where convectors are left exposed, it is advisable to paint them the color of the adjacent walls. This makes the heating unit less noticeable and gives the wall a larger appearance.

Legless Sorting Table Easy to Build at Home

The basement or utility room floor is a back-aching, awkward substitute for a laundry sorting table. Sometimes, though, the floor is the only space because the laundry is too small for a table. One way out of such a dilemma is to build a suspended, legless table which can be pushed out of the way against the wall at a point above the washing machine. Hanging from clothesline ropes, the table is at a convenient height.

Make a framework of 1 by 2-inch lumber to form a rectangle two feet wide and five feet long, with one center brace running the length. Cover it with wood, attaching with 1¼-inch finishing nails spaced 8 inches apart. A hole should be bored at each corner of the table for the clothesline rope. Rope ends will be knotted underneath. Tops of the ropes are tied into large screw eyes fastened into ceiling joists.

The ropes holding the back of the table should be near a wall. To get the table out of the way, just lift the front edge until the table parallels the wall; then hook each end to a wooden collar at the top of the ropes which suspend the back of the table, and presto-chango your table is suspended.

Screen door hooks attached at the extremes of the front edge are used to fit into the screw eyes on the "collars."

Stevenson and the Machine

On Tuesday, Gov. Stevenson was in Washington trying to appear both standoffish and friendly to his host, President Truman. Harry is both a political asset and a liability.

As the CIO's lackey, Mr. Truman deserves the gratitude of the labor bosses and may be able to cash it in at the polls. His phony civil rights program has won him Negro support. His vast federal machine can do much for a candidate in the way of manufacturing crises, spreading propaganda and canvassing precincts. But Harry himself is poison to the bulk of Americans, and the problem is to cash in on his assets without incurring the liability of his enthusiastic support. A whistle stop campaign such as the president wishes to make could do Mr. Stevenson a great deal of damage.

* * *

But while he was in Washington seeking to disassociate himself from the Truman machine even while visiting its leader, Gov. Stevenson's own payrol machine in Illinois was teaming up at Springfield with Jack Arvey's boys from Chicago to put over the governor's choice as his successor on the state ticket. Lieut. Gov. Sherwood Dixon, an amiable man, had the Stevenson nod, but it took everything but brass knuckle work by the state and Cook county machines to put him over.

* * *

An interesting figure in this struggle was Frederick P. Wall, the state central committeeman from the 1st congressional district. Until Monday, Wall had been counted in the corner of Secretary of State Barrett. But Wall had been having troubles. He is under indictment, charged with selling postoffice jobs, and it is conceivable that, between them, the governor and the Chicago bosses know more persons of influence than does Barrett. After Wall renounced his heresy, Al Horan, the acting boss of the Chicago machine, packed him into an airplane, flew him to Springfield, and did everything but handcuff him to make sure he didn't relapse. Wall's votes, the number cast in his district in the recent Democratic primary, were enough to put Dixon ahead of Barrett.

* * *

Every candidate tries to appear unbossed, but Gov. Stevenson's gyrations in this direction are somewhat painful to watch for anyone familiar with his record. He would not be governor if Boss Arvey had not picked him as a candidate. The machine staffed his state offices. Its payrollers, appointed by him, brought on him the horsemeat and cigaret tax scandals and the faulty inspection that led to the fatal West Frankfort mine disaster.

Machine delegations from Massachusetts and New York started the rush for him in the convention. At the time Harry Truman was sitting nearby in the Stock Yard inn. If as some have asserted, he was neutral in this struggle, it was a most benevolent neutrality.

Dever and Truman and Arvey and Wall will all be with Stevenson in November. His problem is to pretend that they weren't there, and to present himself as the candidate who has nothing to do with machines. After the performance in Springfield Tuesday, that is going to take some doing.—Chicago Tribune.

PETER EDSON'S WASHINGTON NEWS NOTEBOOK

LIST OF 200 EXPORT VIOLATORS IS TOP-HEAVY WITH U. S. FIRMS

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—For illegally trying to ship strategic materials behind the Iron Curtain, nearly 400 exporting firms have had their trading licenses supended during the last four years.

Some suspensions for minor violations have been for only a few months. Others are to run for the duration of the present emergency. In criminal cases involving some of the worst offenders, prison sentences of up to a year and fines of up to $10,000 have been imposed.

The current list of exporters on the suspended list maintained by the Office of International Trade in Department of Commerce contains nearly 200 firm names. Over three-fourths of them are American exporters. Most have offices in New York, but a few operate out of New Orleans, San Francisco and Miami.

Of the others, 12 are Swiss, eight British, five Dutch, four Belgian, four Italian, two each fromTangier and Trieste, one each in Lichtenstein, Union of South Africa, Singapore, Hong Kong and Denmark.

It is notable that all these are trans-shipping countries having so-called free ports and bonded warehouses. These are the principal leaks that have had to be plugged to keep materials from flowing to Soviet bloc countries through false bills of lading, dummy traders or forged custom papers.

As far as the American exporting companies under suspension are concerned, one of the more amazing angles is that many of them are run by foreign businessmen and naturalized Americans. At one time or another many of them have been subjected to Communist or Nazi persecution.

MOST COMPLY WITH ALL REGULATIONS

Knowing first hand what the spread of totalitarianism means, they nevertheless cannot resist the temptation for profit by trading with what should be their worst enemy.

The great majority of esatblished American business firms, particularly the manufacturers, bend over backwards to comply with every regulation and to make sure that their products are not diverted to the Commies.

A few case histories from the past year's work of investigating and enforcing U. S. export controls indicate the nature and the variety of products handled in this illegal trade:

Anna and William S. Krasnow of Chelsea, Mass., denied export privileges for three months for trans-shipping 1,000 tons of Canadian wool rags to Poland through the United States without proper license.

Dante Corti of Prato, Italy, denied all U. S. export privileges for the duration of the emergency for submitting a false application for license to import 100,000 bales of U. S. cotton, valued at $19,500,000.

Alphonse Widerkehr, Swiss importer, denied U. S. export privilege for diverting a shipment of 30 tons of cylinder oil to Hungary.

David Zetland, New York exporter, denied all export license privileges for manipulating trans-shipment of 82 steel roller bearings valued at $12,000 from Belgium to Switzerland.

A. E. Ratner Chemical Co. of New York, denied all export privileges for planning to export a large shipment of aluminum oxide to Belgium, for later delivery to Hungary.

SEIZED EXPORTS SMALL PART OF TRADE

A. Givatowsky and his import companies in Brussels, Belgium, and Vaduz, Lichtenstein, denied export privileges for a year for concealing his intention to re-export a U. S. tractor and bulldozer from Belgium to Czechoslovakia.

Satis, A. G., of Zurich, Switzerland, and N. V. Van Uden's Transport Bureau of Rotterdam, Holland, barred from all U. S. exports for falsely ordering an $118,000 boring mill for an Italian firm, then trying to divert the delivery to Hungary.

In the past year the United States has seized 260 shipments valued at $115,000 because they were intended for ultimate delivery behind the Iron Curtain. In addition, export of another million dollars worth of supplies was stopped while still in the paper-work stage.

This is admittedly a small haul, considering that the total volume of U. S. exports in 1951 was about $15 billion. The amount of contraband intended for shipment behind the Iron Curtain and actually caught is approximately 1/100 of 1 per cent of this total legal trade. How much got through that wasn't caught, there is no way of knowing. But U. S. officials believe it isn't much.

To stop even the trickle that was caught cost a great deal more than the value of the goods themselves. Every U. S. customs official is on the lookout for such shipments. And it takes nearly 1,000 government officials in Washington, in U. S. ports, in Europe and throughout the rest of the world to plan the policy and police the paper work to get the job done. It costs at least $5 million and maybe double.

Questions and Answers

Q—What was the name of the lightship that headed off a Nazi sub in World War II?

A—This incident was the highest moment in the career of the lightship "Old Stone Horse." It happened when the old boat went adrift in a northeaster and a sub surfaced nearby. The lightship flashed the signal lights just as when she was on station. The sub's officers, knowing her proper position, concluded they were far off course and turned toward the outer ocean.

Reds Force Mates Of Deserted East Germans to Part

BERLIN, Germany—(AP)—Communists in the East zone of Germany reportedly are forcing husbands and wives whose mates have fled to the West to get divorces whether they want them or not.

The anti-Communist "Free Jurists"—a group of lawyers and judges who escaped from the East zone and took refuge in West Berlin—said today that information reaching them gave these details:

If an East German wife or husband whose mate is now on the West side of the Iron Curtain applies for a job he or she is told there is no chance for employment unless a divorce is obtained.

In some cases, the jurists said, the applicant either must yield or face starvation.

Although court jesters early in the Middle Ages often were mental defectives, in later times they sometimes were outstanding men who rose to important positions.

HOLLYWOOD—(NEA)— Exclusively Yours: Yvonne de Carlo hasn't got a daddy like Harry S. Truman to write blistering letters to the music critics, so she's giving up her operatic aspirations.

Her decision, honest Yvonne told me before leaving for Europe to co-star with Rock Hudson in "Toilers of the Sea," was made when the critics rapped her for trying to be a Rise Stevens in the Hollywood Bowl production of "Die Fledermaus" last year.

STOPS GENERAL—At Camp McCoy, Wis., Cpl. Bernard B. Wascher of Clinton, Ia., above, was assigned to guard a road and ordered to let "no one" pass. Along came a motor convoy carrying four full companies. Corporal Wascher stopped it cold. Noncoms argued. Company commanders argued. Battalion officers argued. No dice. Finally Maj.-Gen. Ray Cam Fountain tried to pass. Still no dice. Someone checked Corporal Wascher's orders and found he'd been posted on the wrong road. After that, everybody passed and the general officially commended the corporal "for the attention to duty and soldierly qualities exhibited by you."

Excusing Misery Is Easier Than Excusing Own Faults

"People unhappy in marriage are lazy. They always have an excuse for unhappiness," says Dr. Frank S. Caprio in his book, "Living in Balance."

Many of the letters that come to this column indicate that there is a lot of truth in what the doctor says.

It is easier for a woman to complain that her life is "nothing but housework" than to get busy and add some new interests to it.

It is easier for a woman to blame her husband for losing interest in her than to face the unpleasant fact that maybe she has let herself go to the point where she is pretty dull company.

It is easier to regard a troublesome in-law as a hopeless problem than to figure out how to live in the same world with that in-law in peace.

EASIER TO BLAME OTHERS THAN HERSELF

It is far easier for a woman to blame her unhappiness on marrying the wrong kind of man than to admit the fact that she had a free choice, and that if she once thought he was wonderful, perhaps she, herself, brought out the worst instead of the best in him.

It is much easier to sigh that life is just a dull routine than to break the deadly monotony by using a little ingenuity and a lot of get-up-and-go.

It's a pretty safe bet that if a woman has health and a fair share of brains and is still unhappy, that she has taken a lazy attitude toward living. She may work hard at the routine of life and still be lazy about making a real effort to be happy.

THE DOCTOR SAYS:

Diverticula of Intestines Usually Show No Symptoms

Since about one person in 20 develops what is known as a diverticulum or "divertuclosis", of te intestines, it is not surprising that many people write asking for information on that subject.

It should be said at the start that children rarely develop diverticula. Young people do not have them often, but in the middle and later years of life, they become quite common. Actually, although common, diverticula usually produces no symptoms whatever, and do not require any special treatment.

Now, a diverticulum is a pouch or pocket leading off from a large cavity or tube. Diverticula (more than one diverticulum) are most common in the colon or lower part of the bowel. When these pockets do not produce symptoms the condition is called diverticulosis. But they can become inflamed and then the label diverticulitis is applied.

In diverticulitis the symptoms of inflammation vary a good deal. There may be a single slight attack of acute abdominal pain or several attacks of slight distress.

Occasionally, the inflammation may be so severe as to cause a perforation or hole in the pocket abdominal cavity and producing peritonitis, abcess formation, or obstruction.

The area involved may be sensitive to pressure, though of course many other conditions can cause such symptoms. For this reason the diagnosis is often difficult.

Examination of the lower part of the bowel by the use of an instrument called a proctoscope is usually necessary. X-ray studies also help in establishing diagnosis.

TREATED BY DIET MEDICINE

When severe diverticulitis bursts through the wall of the bowel or obstructs intestinal action, an immmediate operation may be necessary. In most cases, however, treatment by diet or medicine is all that is needed.

Most diverticula are not cause for serious concern. Of those which do produce trouble, the majority can be treated by diet and other simple means. But this is not a condition which need trouble many people, especially if one of these pouches is discovered in the course of routine X-rays or tests for some other suspected disorder.

Prayer for TODAY

Our heavenly Father, we thank thee that the abundant life in our country enables many of us to enjoy the vacation season. May we realize how few people in other lands are permitted such helpful periods of rest and relaxation. May the summer season bring us all to a realization of thy goodness and mercy; in Jesus' name. Amen.

—James Ross McCain, Decatur, Ga., president emeritus, Agnes Scott College.

What's Right?

You have friends who live in a large city.

WRONG: Whenever acquaintances from your home town go to that city on vacation, give them the name and address of your friends and ask them to be sure to look them up.

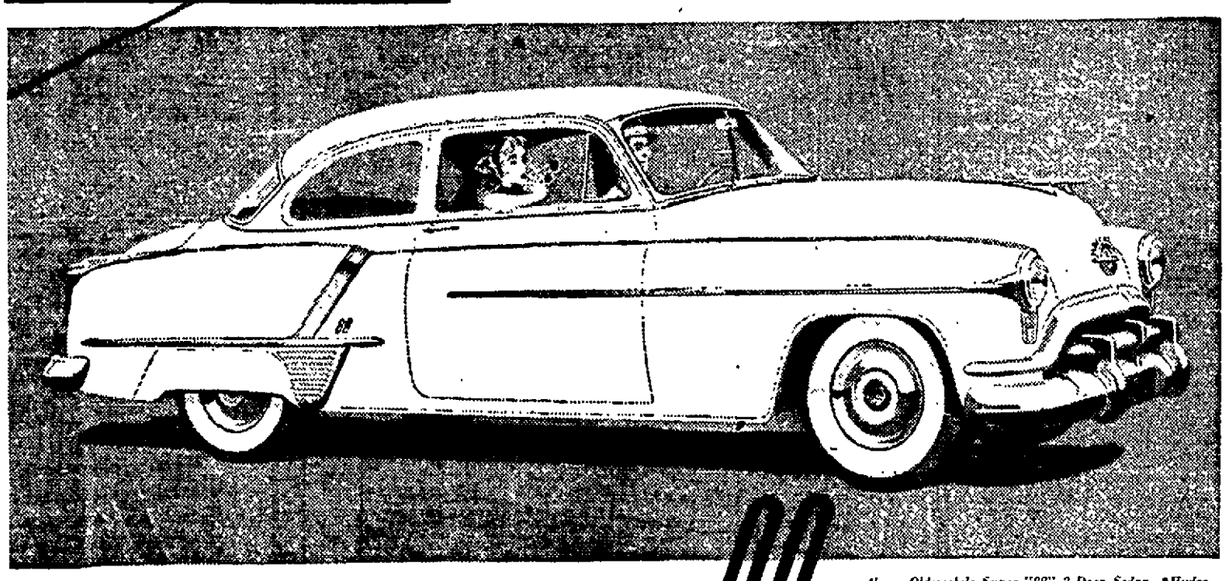

RIGHT: Realize that it can be a great imposition to expect friends to entertain anybody you know who happen to be in their city for a visit.

Jelly Making Success

Perfect results in jelly making depend on the correct proportions of acid, pectin, sugar and water in extracted juice. Different fruits vary in these proportions so the amount of sugar, pectin, or acid added should vary with the fruits used.

To eliminate guessing, a jelmeter may be purchased at a small cost which will enable you to test each fruit you use and will indicate the correct amount of sugar to use. For example, grapes in a half ripened condition need a certain proportion of sugar while a few days later when fully ripened, the proportion will be entirely changed.

Very thin watery juice needs pectin, and can be improved by adding commercial pectin or the juice of a fruit high in pectin, such as juice extracted from apples. Flavor will not be affected.

Jelly will be more clear if juice is strained through a cloth without squeezing, though this does take more time. A second extraction with squeezing will be more economical.

Many fruits require additional acid before extraction cooking. The usual recommendation is to add lemon juice.

For best results cook the jelly in small amounts in a large kettle. The larger the surface the more rapidly evaporation will take place and rapid cooking will preserve color, flavor and nutritive value.

Jelly is done when it tests 221° F. with a candy or jelly thermometer. For the "sheeting-off" test, dip a cool spoon into the boiling mixture, and as it nears the jelly point it will drop from the spoon in heavy drops. When two drops begin to fall at once or jelly commences to "sheet-off" from the side of the spoon, jelly is finished and should be removed from fire at once.

All of the above also applies to jam making.

Jelly Superstition

Some food superstitions die hard, even when the weight of scientific fact and long practical experience should kill them off. One mistaken idea which shows up each year at jelly-making time is that beet sugar is not so good for making fruit jelly as can sugar. Grocers have reported that housewives are likely to discriminate between the two.

Cookery experts and sugar specialists of the U. S. Department of Agriculture agree that beet and cane sugar in refined granulated form give equally good results in jelly-making, canning or cooking. The two sugars are chemically the same.

To the housewife they say: If your homemade jelly doesn't jell, don't blame either can or beet sugar.

Peaches in Preserves

With commercial preserves on the expensive side, you'll find it pays to put up peach preserves now while there's a good supply of fresh fruit.

You can use the less perfect peaches in preserves, but they should be at the firm-ripe stage.

Here are directions for making peach preserves: Wash peaches and scald them in boiling water just long enough to loosen skins. Quickly dip them in cold water. Peel them and remove seeds. Either leave them whole or cut into uniform pieces. Or to get smoother preserves and save time, you may put the fruit through the food grinder.

To each pound of prepared fruit, allow ¾ to 1 pound of sugar. To bring out flavor, you may want to add 2 teaspoons of lemon juice per pound of fruit.

Combine the fruit and sugar in alternate layers, and let stand 8 to 10 hours or overnight before cooking. Or add the sugar and ¼ cup of water for each pound of fruit, and cook at once. In either case, stir carefully while heating to boiling. Boil rapidly until the syrup is somewhat thick, stirring constantly to prevent burning. Pour at once into hot sterilized jars and seal.

You can keep more of the fresh fruit flavor by using commercial pectin to thicken the preserves because they won't need to be boiled so long. Follow manufacturer's directions for using pectin.

Percentage of Synthetics

Are you reading labels very carefully when you buy the new fabrics? It is well to remember as you read, that a little of the synthetic nylon, Orlon or Dacron doesn't go a long way when blended with cotton, rayon or wool.

The special character of such "man-made" fibers will not begin to appear until they make up 15 per cent or more of the fabric. To be really effective, the percentage should be close to 50 per cent.

Nylon, Orlon and Dacron resist wrinkling, but if you want a blended fabric to resist creases and hold the press longer you had better study the label. Be sure that the content of any one of these three is at least 15 per cent, and preferably around 50 per cent.

Hints to Homemaker

Pure, coarse salt, like dairy or meat salt, is best for making pickles. Use this kind rather than fine varieties to which a non-caking agent has been added.

Peaches won't discolor (when freezing) if you peel and slice them directly into sirup containing ascorbic acid. You get ascorbic acid at the drug store.

Save time and give a really professional look to the back-to-school clothes you're planning to make for your youngsters. You'll do both if you are accurate and careful in transferring the pattern marks to the cut-out garment pieces. Use a tracing wheel and dressmaker's tracing paper to mark with precision. It will save you time, too, since it is so quickly done.

Spain Enters Competition In Fashions

MADRID—(AP)—Spain wants a piece of the American fashion market. First gun in the battle with the designers of France, Italy and other nations will be fired Aug. 18.

Five Spanish modistes, participating in a four-day Spanish Festival of Fashion, will present to an expected 100 fashion buyers and writers from the United States and Canada, fall and winter fashions valued at $250,000.

Simultaneously, a Spanish fair will show accessories, fabrics, houseware and handicraft from banderillas to botijos earthenware waterjugs.

At Disadvantage

Organizers of the festival, a Spanish import-export house, are afraid, however, that the Spanish showings which follow those of Italy and France, will be at a disadvantage.

"We're very much afraid the buyers won't have any more money left to spend when they get to Madrid," one said.

The five houses are Pedro Rodriquez, Asuncion Bastida, Manuel Pertegaz, Santa Eulalia whose chief designer is Pedro Formosa, and El Dique Flotante the floating dock whose designer is Francisco Beleta.

Spanish Fabrics

Emphasis in the collections is on Spanish fabrics. The central motif of each house is a closely guarded secret, so much so that the five designers did all their work in their private homes so there would be no chance of leaks.

Prices range from $75 to $100 for day, afternoon and cocktail gowns; $100 and up for coats and from $150 for evening gowns.

The five houses intend the festival to be more than just a flyer. They plan semi-annual shows from now on. In the future they will be held in Barcelona, center of Spain's textile industry and fashion headquarters.

Witnesses Stare at Wreck Scene

WRECK WITNESSES STARE at the blood spots on the curbing where Donnette Stennfeld, 23, Chicago, lay after an auto accident early this morning in Dixon left her with two punctured lungs, severe lacerations and bruises and possible fractures. The car in which she was a passenger and which later pinned her to the curbing is at the far right. Three others were also injured in the accident. Miss Stennfeld is now in critical condition at the Dixon Public hospital.

Chicago Woman Injured Seriously in Crash Here

A 23-year-old Chicago woman almost became the first Dixon traffic fatality since Dec. 16, 1947, when she was thrown from an automobile onto the sidewalk following an accident at Second and Ottawa avenues, early this morning.

Her physician said today, however, that she was "making progress" in her recovery. He added that last night he "didn't think she would make it." He said she is in critical condition.

Donnette Stennfeld, 23, received two ruptured lungs, cuts and bruises and a possible fracture in the accident. Her two girls friends, with whom she was leaving for a vacation in Texas, are also in the hospital with minor cuts and bruises.

The accident occurred about 1:30 a.m. when the girls' northbound car on Ottawa avenue, driven by Mary Patricia Miller, 24, of Darlington, Wis., was struck from behind by the auto driven by James W. Joseph, 23, 514 Highland av., Dixon.

Miss Miller, Miss Stennfeld and the third girl in the car, Joan Nazzarina, 23, of Spring Valley, were all thrown from the car as it spun about the intersection.

Miss Nazzarina, asleep on the right side of the car, was thrown into a pile of brush where she received minor cuts.

Miss Stennfeld was thrown out of the car against the curbing and, seconds later, pinned there by the still moving automobile. Joseph and a passenger in his car, Charles Traynor, had to lift the front end of the car before they could free the woman.

The driver of the car, Miss Miller, received only minor injuries but was taken to the hospital later and treated for shock.

Traynor, 24, 1117 Center st., was also taken to the hospital and treated for lacerations on the forehead.

Officers John Woodyatt and Robert McCoy investigated for the city police.

A minor accident was reported to Dixon police at 1:50 a.m. today when William Lehrke, 407 S. Fifth st., Oregon, driving a Rockford Morning Star newspaper truck, backed into the car owned by William Doctor, 611 N. Jefferson st.

The accident occurred at the Newman garage. Only minor damage was reported.

Prince, Rita Rush to Side Of Daughter

HOLLYWOOD, (AP) — Aly Kahn and his estranged wife, Rita Hayworth, rushed Friday night to an emergency hospital, where their daughter, Yasmin, 2½, was treated after swallowing sleeping pills.

The prince and the actress arrived in separate cars, forgetting at least for a moment their marital difficulties.

The actress told hospital attendants she did not know how the child, who has been ill with whooping cough, obtained the pills. After her stomach was pumped out, Yasmin appeared to be none the worse for her experience. She was in the hospital about 15 minutes.

Meantime, Aly has another date to dine today with Rita.

The Moslem prince had a three-hour visit at her Beverly Hills home Friday. He described it as "most pleasant" but turned aside reporters' questions about a possible reconciliation.

"Let's talk about something else," he said.

The prince has indicated on many occasions he is desirous of patching up his difficulties with the red-haired movie star, but she never has given the reconcilation talk any encouragement.

Radium, Valued At $8,000 Gone From Hospital

ALTON, Ill.—(AP)— Authorities will use a geiger counter in an effort to locate some $8,000 worth of radium reported missing from St. Joseph's hospital.

The loss was reparted Friday after a radiologist, who loans the radium for use in operations, discovered the lead-lined box was empty.

A physician said the radium may have been bundled up among old bandages and thrown away. The city dump will be checked.

The radium, which was last used several weeks ago, looks like ordinary table salt but can cause severe burns at close range.

John L. Lewis Orders 'Memorial' for Miners

WASHINGTON —(AP)— John L. Lewis, in the midst of bargaining for a new coal wage contract, today ordered his miners out of the pits for a 10-day "memorial" work stoppage at the end of this month.

Nothing was said in the announcement to relate the move to the negotiations but Lewis customarily uses the contract-permitted mourning period in connection with new contract talks. Officially the purpose is commemoration of the casualties of mining disasters.

The designated period, announced in the United Mine Workers Journal, is August 21 to Sept. 1, inclusive. August 23 falls on a Saturday when the miners customarily do not work. Sept. 1 is a Monday. Thus the stoppage will involve only six normal working days.

Lewis has given notice that the present coal mine wage contract will expire Sept. 30, just under a month after the men will be going back to work after the Memorial holiday.

While the selected dates put no direct pressure on the contract talks, they nevertheless will serve to emphasize what will happen if the negotiations do not produce agreement.

Marines Hold Hill Despite Heavy Attack

SEOUL —(AP)— U.S. Marines battled Chinese Reds with fists and grenades in the predawn darkness today in breaking up the seventh Red counter-attack against Bunker Hill on the Korea Western Front.

The Leathernecks captured the once strongly fortified Red position five days ago. The Reds threw 400 men against the position in their latest desperate bid to regain the dominating height.

"We were fist fighting and there were loads of hand grenades flying around," one Marine sergeant related.

Passes Resolution

The spontaneous, homecoming was contrived as the result of a city council resolution Tuesday evening, a few hours after the Democratic State Central committee named Dixon to succeed Adlai Stevenson as head of the state ticket.

A joint committe, headed by Carl Hassleberg and Sid Sinow, arranged a motorcade which met the lieutenant governor and his family at the outskirts of the city, and alerted the townspeople for their coming.

The lieutenant governor rode in a top-down convertible behind a state police escort. With him were Jim Hey, past president of the Junior chamber of commerce, Mayor Bill Slothower and John Devine, the lieutenant governor's law partner. Following were Mrs. Dixon, the children, and a long string of cars bearing well-wishers.

Veterans' organizations were among the accompanying group.

As the motorcade swept down Galena avenue, the streets were well lined with automobiles and pedestrians who cheered and waved as the parade went by. The greatest concentration, outside of John Dixon park, was at First and Galena.

400 in Park

At the park, where an estimated 400 persons awaited him, he encountered difficulty reaching the stand as many stopped him to shake his hand. The crowd cheered lustily as he made his appearance. The Dixon Municipal band played and a few placards calling for the election of the Democratic candidate were in appearance.

Generally, however, the reception had the air of a lawn social, a Fourth of July family gathering.

Truck Driver Found But Gin Still Missing

CHICAGO —(AP) —A New York truck driver, missing 11 days with a truck load of Illinois gin valued at $20,000, was found Friday—but police said some of the gin still was missing.

Sheriff's police said the driver, Dumont Ashley Parker, 29, of Niagara Falls, N. Y., was found in the cab of the truck, parked outside a tavern in suburban Willow Springs.

Still missing, police said, were 200 of the 700 cases of gin which Parker had picked up Aug. 4 at a Peoria, Ill., distillery for delivery at Niagara Falls.

He was turned over to the FBI, which held him without charge for questioning.

Bureau Band Wins Honors At State Fair

SPRINGFIELD—The Ohio Community high school band of Bureau county won top rating in the week-long Class D competition of the week-long band contest, it was announced last night at the Illinois State fair.

Forty bands took part in the contest with the Benld high high schol unit claiming the Governor's trophy as the best band for its size.

An automobile race today and a motorcycle racing program Sunday will bring down the curtain on the 1952 Illinois state fair.

In the 100-mile dirt track event for autos, Troy Ruttman, winner of the Memorial day race at Indianapolis, heads up a field of 32 drivers.

Through its first eight days, fair officials estimated attendance at 845,000-within striking distance of their over-all prediction of 11,000,000 for the entire 10 days.

Cool Air Stalls, Drouth Crisis Grows in Texas

By The Associated Press

A south-bound surge of cool air stalled in northern Oklahoma today—killing any hope for early relief from the 100-degree heat wave that has cooked Texas for 14 days running.

However, the cool air mass from Canada spread eastward into the Midwest, dropping temperatures some 20 degrees. Bismarck, N. D., which sweltered in 100-degree heat Thursday had a pleasant high of 77 Friday.

The heat and drought in Texas has dried up wells and streams, burned out ranges and withered corn and cotton crops. The drought already is more severe than that of 1917-18. Soil conservation officials say it could turn out to be worse than the disastrous 1886 drought.

A windstorm, accompanied by an inch and a half of rain and hail, Friday raked the outskirts of Seward, a small central Oklahoma community. The storm uprooted trees, flattened six barns and snapped power lines.

Scattered thunderstorms splattered much of the Great Lakes and Applachian regions, southward to the Ohio valley.

Mostly fair weather prevailed in other sections.

Texas Child Is Missing

ODESSA, Tex.—(AP) — Search for blonde, blue-eyed Eva Lois Phillips, 9, continued here today. A sheriff's posse and dozens of volunteers were in the hunt.

The child was last seen by neighbors Wednesday morning. She lives with her father who is estranged from the mother. Police held a 27-year-old man who admitted he took the girl riding but maintained he returned her to her home.

Cricket Swarm Now Disappears

CHICAGO, (AP) — An invading army of crickets which swarmed into Chicago' southern suburbs began disappearing Friday night, as mysteriously as they arrived.

The baby crickets, of the chirpless variety, appeared in force Thrusday. Entomologists said the crickets did not come from far distances, but probably hatched in nearby fields, and were seeking better feeding grounds.

Draft Pool Going Dry, Says Hershey

WASHINGTON —(AP)— The nation's draft chief says the pool from which he draws manpower is running dry and, within a year, may be drier than it was at any time during World War II.

"If this pool is as low next summer as I'm prophesying," said Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, selective service director, "just about everybody will be in training unless they have a most excellent reason for not."

Hershey, speaking Friday night, added:

"We're going to have to hunt men because we're running out of men. The plain truth is that I'm going to be shorter in less than a year of men now than I probably was at any time during the war."

'Ike Like Sen. Collins,' Says Candidate Dixon

AMBOY — Lt. Gov. Sherwood Dixon swiped at Gen. Eisenhower and described the Republican party as a "negative" slate last night in his "first political talk" since receiving the Democratic gubernatorial nomination.

Speaking here before a Fall festival crowd of about 500 persons, Dixon used State Senator Dennis J. Collins as a springboard for criticizing Eisenhower.

"I've read news stories that sound like the words of a certain state senator. He is known in Springfield for his positive belief in reduction of expenses and at the same time greater taxes and more social security benefits.

"Talks Like Collins"

"His name might be Eisenhower but he talks like Collins."

Dixon said a political party cannot win unless it is "for something," rather than being "only against the party in power."

"The Republicans have called us everything—dictators, socialists—but they still haven't realized that their only program is a negative one."

Dixon described himself as a "country lawyer talking to a jury in the courthouse." He said he had been a "reluctant candidate" and now found it "hard to ask anybody to support me."

"Responsibility Great"

"I was reluctant because I had lived close to Gov. Stevenson and saw how he had to devote long hours every day to details of the job of governor. The responsibility is great, but I have lost my reluctance," he declared.

He said that the Democratic party had given Illinois an honest administration during the past four years with economy and justice minus any show.

"And the people are convinced we gave it to them. As a result we have for the first time in history nomintaed an Illinois Democrat for president."

Two other area Democratic candidates spoke briefly after Dixon's speech. Hubert Considine, state representative from Dixon, and Joseph Stuemlau, state representative from Mendota, both pledged their support to Dixon and urged the people to support their "neighbor" in November.

The program, which began earlier in the afternoon at Oregon country club with a dinner sponsored by the Ogle county Women's Republican club, lasted late into the evening with the candidates staying at the hall to meet the county citizenry.

Stratton and the caravan of candidates had gone to Oregon directly from the Whiteside county fair at Morrison where they spoke Friday afternoon.

DID THE BEST TEAM LOSE?

Pro Rams Rally to Defeat All-Stars, 10-7

CHICAGO —(AP)—It's not true that the best-playing team always wins.

Seldom has a football squad looked so superb in defeat as the college All-Stars did Friday night.

In tacking up a 10-7 decision on the scoreboard by bunching all their points in the last quarter, the Los Angeles Rams looked like anything but the National Football champions they are.

Most observers thought they didn't deserve to win and were lucky to do it.

The 19th game in the All-Star series was played in intermittent rain before 88,316 fans who remained in Soldier Field fascinated with the vigorous competition until the final gun. Millions of others saw it on television or heard it on radio.

It was a game of breaks—all bad ones for the All-Stars.

In all, the collegians fumbled away the ball five times, Los Angeles none.

Babe Parilli wasn't a runner at Kentucky. But Bobby Dodd of Georgia Tech, head All-Star coach, had dreamed up several running plays for him as a surprise weapon. He doesn't even know how to hold the ball—keeps it loose and open. It didn't take long for the Rams to discover this.

However, Parillio—Who will be with the Green Bay Packers this season as a pro—broke loose for a 40-yard dash in the second period that set up the All-Stars 68-yard march to a touchdown. The surge started when Frank Gifford of Southern California stole Norm Vanbrocklin's pass.

Vic Janowicz of Ohio State, now an Army corporal at Camp Polk, La., finally sommersaults over the goal line after Parilli's pitch-out to him on the four. Vic also booted the point.

The Rams tied the score at 1:14 of the fourth period, capping a 77-yard push with Vanbrocklin's three-yard toss to Hank Younger. Bob Waterfield converted.

Later in the final quarter, Vanbrocklin and Elroy Hirsch combined on a 10-yard screen pass that moved the ball into position for a 24-yard field goal by Waterfield that won the game.

Kenny Scott Threatens Meet Leaders

EUGENE, Ore.—(AP)—The final 18-hole round of the national Jaycee junior golf tournament opens today in a dead heat between a 16-year-old Floridan and a 17-year-old Californian.

Donald "Scotty" Fraser of Panama City is the Florida youth. He shot his second straight round of par on the Eugene Country Club Friday.

Tommy Jacobs of Montebello is the Californian. He came through in the pinch to tie Fraser at 217, although it took a birdie on the 18th hole to do it. Jacobs was two under par for the day.

Unless there is a complete blow-up- which always is possible with players as young as these—no one else appears to have a chance except Ken Scott, Rockford, Ill.

Little noticed at the start of the tourney, Scott has been improving every day. He came in with a 70 Friday, the only one able to equal Jacob's performance. That gave Scott a 220 total, three behind the leaders.

One Count Top Choice to Win Belmont Event

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y. —(AP)—One Count, sidelined by an injury since his surprise victory in the Belmont Stakes early in June, returns to competition today as the favorite to whip nine other 3-year-olds in the 83rd Travers Stake.

Mrs. Walter M. Jeffords' son of Count Fleet picks up top weight of 126 pounds for the $20,000 added mile and one-quarter race-America's oldest stake race. He'll concede from three to 12 pounds to his rivals.

Although the Count hasn't raced since whipping Blue Man in the Belmont, he has had two satisfactory mile and a quarter workouts. He showed no effects of the foot injury in the tests.

The Count's chief competition is expected to come from Cain Hoy Stable's Armageddon, who has done most of his winning at Belmont Park; Golden Gloves from William Woodward's Belair stud; Greentree Stable's in-and-out Tom Fool, champion 2-year old of 1951; and Col. E. P. Bixer's Count Flame, recent stake winner at Monmouth Park.

Eliot 'Not Pessimistic' As Illini Eye '52 Season

CHAMPAIGN—(Special)—Fifty-nine candidates, one of the smallest squads in Illini history, have been invited by Coach Ray Eliot to report for fall practice Sept. 3 at University of Illinois.

Include don Eliot's invitation list from which he must mold a team to defend the Big Ten championship, are 20 lettermen from the title squad, two monogram winners from 1950, three reserves from the Rose Bowl group, 31 squad members of varying degrees of experience, and three freshmen enrollees of February who will be eligible this season.

Sees Good Team

Eliot believes Illinois will have a good college football team in 1952. Whether it can develop greatness depends upon many factors.

"We have promising, but untested new men who must be fitted into vacancies created by graduation," Eliot said. "We cannot be sure returning lettermen will maintain or improve their levels of performance in 1951. And, no one knows how the football will bounce in a rugged nine-game schedule such as we face."

Coach Eliot is not pessimistic. He is concerned with loss of 20 lettermen, one-half the total who received letters last season. He realizes that a great many problems must be solved in the brief period of practice before the season's opener with Iowa State Sept. 27.

Eliot stacks the squad assets on one side as follows: (1) 22 lettermen available; (2) good, veteran personnel at end, quarterback and fullback; (3) return of defensive backfield and five of defensive platoon in the line; (4) potential overall team speed; (5) sound passing and adequate kicking.

Balancing these hopeful factors are liabilities which the Illini coach must offset. They are: (1) Loss by graduation of five first-string linemen; (2) lack of experience at halfback; (3) lack of experienced personnel at line-backing; (4) lack of depth at guard, especially on offense; (5) lack of depth at tackle.

Has Good Ends

Illinois, on paper, appears strongest at the ends with five lettermen, all of whom played regularly, Rex Smith, John Ryan, Cliff Waldbeser, Lawrence Stevens, and Andy Wodziak; at quarterback with brilliant Tommy O'Connell; at fullback with Bill Tate, "player of the 1952 Rose Bowl game," and at defensive backs where the trio of Capt. Al Brosky, Herb Neathery, and Stan Wallace probably is unequalled in the nation.

Coach Eliot's biggest headaches will be in replacement of linebackers like Chuck Boerio and Elie Popa, halfbacks like John Karras and Don Stevens, tackles and guards such as Chuck Ulrich, Marv Berschet, Chuck Studley, Don Gnidovic and Dick Jenkins.

Candidates invited to return for practice follow (by position):

Tackles—Dan Bednarek, Chicago (Vocational); Bernie Elsner*, Chicago (St. Bede);; Phil Goldstick, Chicago (Morton); Dick Kohlhagen, Rockford (West); Richard Miller, Lanark; Pete Palmer, St. Louis, Mo. (Clayton); Bruce Struckman, Elgin; Don Tate*, New Castle, Pa.; Robert Weddell*, Webster Groves, Mo.; Roger Wolf, Aurora (West).

Quarterbacks—Elry Falkenstein, Naperville; Robert Gongola, Chicago (Weber); Tommy O'Connell*, Chicago (South Shore).

U. S. Golfers Take First American Cup

SEATTLE, (AP) — Golfdom's newest trophy, the Americas Cup, belonged today to the United States and it was a youngster known as "The Boy" to his teammates who pointed the way to victory yesterday over Mexico and Canada.

The final score after two days of play was 12 points for the U. S., 5 for Mexico and 10 for a Canadian team that made a courageous but futile bid in Friday's singles matches.

Walt McElroy of Vancouver knocked over husky Frank Stranahan of Toledo 4 and 3, Jerry Kesselring of Kitchener, Ont., whipped Harvie Ward in a match that went 38 holes and Nick Weslock of Windsor, Ont., bumped lean Charlie Coe of Oklahoma City 3 and 2.

These upsets were too few and to late after "The Boy," 21-year-old Ken Venturi of San Francisco had whipped two oponents to put the U. S. clouters on the victory trail. Although they split with Canada, the winners came within one match of making a clean sweep over Mexico in six contests.

Dixon Swim Team Loses To Belvidere

BELVIDERE — Dixon's swimming team lost to Belvidere by a mere two points here Thursday night.

Final score was 53½ to 51½. Jim DeYoung was a double winner for Dixon.

Split With Braves as Bums Lose

Cleveland Slices Yankees' Lead to Two Games in AL

By The AP

New York's Giants blew a fine opportunity yesterday to gain a big chunk of ground on the Dodgers by splitting a twi-night doubleheader with the sixth-place Braves while the Dodgers dropped an 8-3 decision to the Philadelphia Phillies. By winning both games the Giants would have advanced to within 6½ games; instead they trail by 7½.

Larry Jansen appeared to have the opener in the bag as he had a 2-0 no-hitter after seven innings but he lost his stuff and bowed, 4-3. Max Lanier pitched the Giants to a 3-1 triumph in the second game. The Cardinals trimmed Pittsburgh, 5-4, in the only other game. Cincinnati and Chicago were idle.

Indians Advance

In the American League, the second place Cleveland Indians cut the front-running New York Yankees' advantage to two games. The Indians nosed out the St. Louis Browns, 7-6, in 12 innings while the third place Boston Red Sox nicked the Yanks, 3-2. The Red Sox trail by 3½ games. In the remaining game, the Philadelphia Athletics outlasted Washington 11-7. Chicago and Detroit were not scheduled.

Jansen, gunning for his 12th victory of the season and 13th straight over Boston, lost his no-hitter in the eighth when Sid Gordon singled. A walk and single by pinch-hitter Bob Thorpe sent Gordon home.

Thompson Atones

Thompson atoned for his error by winning the second game with a two-run homer in the eighth off rookie Lew Burdette. The blow snapped a 1-1 tie and ended Lanier's five-game losing streak. Johnny Logan hit his first major league homer for the Braves' only run. Clint Hartung, who homered in the opener along with Dave Williams, also connected in the nightcap for the Giants.

Robin Roberts, the National's top winner, hung up his 19th victory for the Phils in beating the Dodgers. Home runs by Ed Waitkus, Connie Ryan and Del Ennis featured the Phils' assault. Gil Hodges clouted his 26th homer and George Shuba his fifth to account for all of Brooklyn's runs. The triumph was Robert's ninth in ten decisions over the Brooklyn Dodgers at Ebbets Field.

Grey-beards Enos Slaughter and Al Brazle teamed up to give the Cards the nod over the Pirates. The 37-year-old Brazle held the Pirates hitless over the final three innings and the 36 - year - old Slaughter singled home Red Schoendienst with ow out in the seventh inning with the winning run.

Neccial Chased

Ron Neccial, the Pirates' minor league strikeout sensation, started for Pittsburgh and was staked to a 3-0 lead. Ralph Kiner clouted a two-run homer, his 25th, in the first and Neccial singled home a run in the second. The kid yielded a run in the second and left in the fifth when the Cards scored three runs. Forrest Main was the eventual loser.

The Yanks out-hit the Red Sox, 12-6, but stranded nine runners in bowing to Sid Hudson and two relief pitchers. Johnny Lipon's bases-loaded single in the seventh broke a 1-1 tie and won the game.

Harry Simpson tripled home Ray Bone with one out in the 12th to beat the Browns at Cleveland. The Browns enjoyed a 6-2 lead entering the fifth when Luke Easter poled a three-run homer. The Indians tied it up in the eighth. Satchel Paige was the loser and Early Wynn the winner in relief.

Bobby Shantz, the major's biggest winner, suffered his hardest lacing of the season but managed to go all the way to post his 21st win for the A's. The Senators whacked Bobby for 14 hits including home runs by Jackie Jensen, Ken Wood and Ed Yost. The 14 hits and seven runs were the most Shantz has allowed in a single game this year. The A's wiped out a 5-4 deficit with a six run splurge in the fifth.

SHORT TAKES

George Acker, now enjoying a vacation (first in five years, he says) in Florida with his father, will return to a graduate assistantship in the men's physical education department at Northern Illinois State Teachers college, DeKalb, this fall.

• • • •

FOR THE FIRST time in many years, neither Ken Detweiler nor Bill Witzleb will be around for the finals of the Dixon Country club tournament. Witzleb was eliminated by Bill Mooney, 5 and 4, while Detweiler, the defending champ, was ousted by Ed O'Malley, 1 up, when O'Malley fought back after being four down at the end of nine holes.

Dick Arndt, avid Dixon golfer and a Wisconsin grad, says Wisconsin will be loaded this fall. Everything is very hush-hush around Madison about the Badgers' prospects, he reports, however. The visit of Illinois on Oct. 4 will be the high point of the football year in Madison. At least one Telegraph employe, Bob Duket, formerly of Oconomowoc, is not expected to return to Dixon if the Badgers lose to Illinois this year.

• • • •

THE MOST RECENT authority on Iowa's football prospects we've talked with is Don Barnhart. The new Dixon football coach says Forrest Evashevski has a tremendous job ahead if he hopes to build Iowa into a national football power. "The average Iowa high school is too small to produce as many college football prospects as Illinois turns out each year," Barnhart said. "That means Iowa will have to concentrate on getting good out-of-state players."

• • • •

Jim Swanson turned in the top golfing shot of the season at Dixon Country club early this week when he scored a hole-in-one on the fifth hole. The shot was witnessed by Mrs. Alice Peterson, Mrs. Chick Nilsson and Lee Bevilacqua. "It landed in front of the green and rolled into the cup as pretty as can be," said Swanson.

A ROCHELLE informant says Stan Campbell, former all-conference lineman in the NCIC and later a letter winner at Iowa State, has a good chance of making the Detroit Lions squad this season.

Buffalo Pitcher Tosses First Perfect Game in Thirty Years

BALTIMORE—(AP)—Dick Marlowe's shortened stride took him a long way—to a pitcher's dream: a game with no hits, no runs, no walks, nobody on base.

The Buffalo righthander tossed the perfect game in racking up a 2-0 International League victory over the Baltimore Orioles here Friday night.

Only Second

It was only the second perfect game in the history of the league, and the eighth on record in the history of professional baseball.

Marlowe, a tall, soft-spoken 23-year-old who has been in pro ball only five years, couldn't get very excited about it.

"I knew I had a no-hitter in the top of the seventh, but I didn't know until the game was over that there weren't any walks and nobody got on base."

Both Marlowe and his roommate, Joe Erautt, who caught the perfect game, said a shortened stride developed the last few days was most responsible for Dick's improved game.

He had a 6-7 record before last night.

Manager Happy

Manager Jack Tighe, who was "pleasantly surprised" with his pitcher's performance, said Marlowe had been improving steadily since the first of June.

Erautt, the stocky, little catcher, wasn't as calm.

Future Illini

ROLAND HODGES, son of Mr. and Mrs. Willis B. Hodges, Oregon, has been awarded an athletic scholarship to the University of Illinois. An Oregon Community high school graduate of 1952, Hodges was a member of the football and basketball squads for his four years in high school.

Kid Circus Closes for Tax Reasons

WASHINGTON—(AP)— Amusement taxes put Larry Aiken's circus out of business.

Larry, 21, of Terre Haute, Ind., wrote the Bureau of Internal Revenue that he was staging a successful backyard circus when his father, a government worker, told him about that major fact of life —taxes.

Larry promptly closed down his show, figured up his taxes—taxes 20 per cent on 22 people who paid five cents each—and sent the government a U. S. postal money order for 22 cents.

"Was going to run 3 more days till all this came up," he wrote.

A revenue bureau spokesman said the government may have to refund Larry part of his 22 cents if some of his paying customers were under 12 years old, and thus exempt from amusement taxes. It plans to write Larry and find out.

Film Actress Stricken With Polio, Report

PORTLAND, (AP) — Film star Phyllis Thaxter, 32, was hospitalized here yesterday and her physician said today she is apparently suffering from infantile paralysis.

Dr. William C. Burrage described her condition as satisfactory.

The auburn-haired actress returned to her native Portland from Hollywood last month to spend the summer with her parents, Maine Supreme Court Justice and Mrs. Sidney St. Felix Thaxter.

Miss Thaxter has a 6-year-old daughter, Susan, and expects a second child next winter.

Her husband, James T. Aubrey jr., of Van Nuys, Calif., a television advertising executive for the Columbia Broadcasting System, was reported on the West Coast.

Her recent motion pictures included "Fort Worth," a Western in which she co-starred with Randolph Scott; "Come Fill the Cup," in which she appeared with James Cagney; and "She's Working Her Way Through College."

Her first starring picture was "Thirty Seconds Over Tokyo."

55-Cent Steak Dinners on Way Out in Army

WASHINGTON, (AP) — How would you like to get a dinner like this for 55 cents:

T-bone steak and gravy, baked potatoes, kale with bacon, corn on the cob, salad, cake, ice cream, hot rolls and butter, milk or iced tea.

Described as a typical dinner at the Anacostia Naval Receiving Station and many military messes, such 55-cent menus are availble to officers and civilians.

But you'd better hurry. The Defense department, a spokesman said yesterday, is making a survey of food costs preparatory to ordering price boosts to cover costs and operating expenses.

Foreign-Based Troops Living Good--Not Plush

WASHINGTON, (AP) — Assistant Defense Secretary Anna Rosenberg says the "good, but not plus" living conditions of American servicemen and their families in Europe and North Africa have improved in the past year — but are still not as good as they should be.

Mrs. Rosenberg, just returned from an inspection tour of the area, told a news conference yesterday that the greatest need is for facilities to keep servicemen occupied during off-duty hours.

Corinne Calvet — Zsa Zsa Gabor

"Zut! Alors! La Gabor, she can't do zees to me'" is, in effect, what angrily sputtering French actress Corinne Calvett, left, declared when she slapped a $1,000,000 damage suit on fiery Hungarian actress Zsa Zsa Gabor, right, in Superior Court, Santa Monica, Calif. Basis of the suit was Miss Gabor's alleged statement to NEA Hollywood columnist Erskine Johnson, "Calvett is a cockney English girl who couldn't even speak French a few years ago." Miss Calvet, who claims to have been born in Paris of an old French family, charged the statement, motivated by "malice, ill-will and hatred," has seriously damaged her standing in the movie world.

Divorcee Pleads Guilty to Affair With 17-Year-old

LOS ANGELES—(AP)—Mrs. Virginia LeTourneau, 28-year-old blonde divorcee who ran away with a 17-year-old neighbor boy, pleaded guilty in Superior Court yesterday to contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

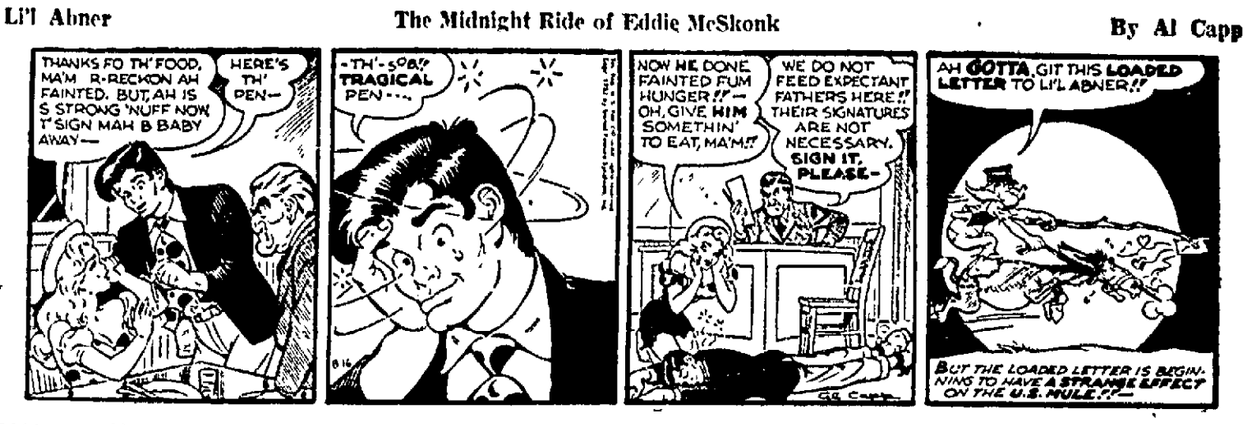

"Now if I could only see Jimmy I'd be really happy," she said, alternately weeping and smiling.

She and Jimmy Sherwin took Mrs. LeTourneau's 12-year-old son with them on a six-week junket of six Western states. They were arrested in Phoenix, Ariz.

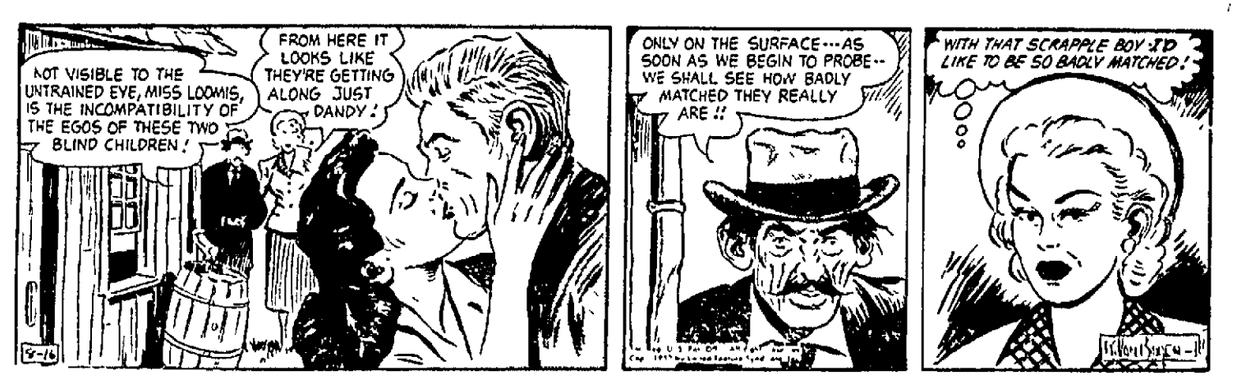

Mrs. LeTourneau is free on $1,000 pending sentence. Young Sherwin as a ward of Juvenile Court.

Many Holders of GI Insurance Lax in Picking Up Dividends

WASHINGTON —(AP)— A Veterans Administration official estimated today only half of those holding National Service Life Insurance will get their share of the 200 million dollars in 1952 dividends.

The reason: They haven't asked for it in writing.

Officials believe there are two major reasons for this:

1. Many of the five million holders of about six million policies entitled to dividends do not know they must apply in writing.

2. Many who are not requesting checks are merely letting their cash be credited to their account to pay later premiums, or to draw 3 per cent intrest after a certain date.

The estimate that only half of those entitled to 1952 dividends will be paid was based on today's report that 1,448,028 checks totaling $53,326,754 had been issued up to Aug. 7.

Allegheny Steel Signs CIO Contract

PITTSBURGH —(AP)— Allegheny-Ludlum Steel Corp. is making preparations today to resume full production after signing a complete new contract with the CIO United Steelworkers.

The agreement, covering 14,000 workers in five plants, was reached Friday night.

Allegheny-Ludlum was the only major steel producer which had not recalled its employes under terms of an interim agreement ending a nation-wide steel strike July 25.

A company spokesman said Allegheny-Ludlum chose to remain idle until a complete contract was agreed upon.

Details were not announced, but sources close to both sides said the contract follows the general pattern set in the basic steel industry when the six largest producers agreed to the pact last month.

The interim agreement provides wage boosts averaging slightly more than 21 cents an hour. Average steelworker pay scale under the old contract was two dollars an hour.

Gen. Turner New Head of 1st Air Force

GARDEN CITY, N. Y.—(AP)—The new First Air Force commander is Maj. Gen. Howard M. Turner, former member of the United Nations Command delegation for Korean armistice negotiations.

Turner's appointment was announced yesterday at nearby Mitchell Air Force Base. The announcement said he assumed his new post Aug. 9 after returning from Tokyo in July.

Turner, 50, commanded the 40th Combat Bombardment Wing during World War II, and later was commanding general of the 1st Bombardment division of the 8th Air Force in Europe.

PROTECTIVE POLES

When properly installed, lightning rods afford a high degree of protection and often save many times their cost in fire prevention alone. This is particularly true in the open country, since lightning is more likely to strike buildings there than in the city.

Delayed Action Bomb in Crashed Plane Explodes

SEOUL, Korea —(AP)— A delayed action bomb exploded today in the wreckage of an Allied fighter bomber where the body of a dead U.S. flier had lain for four days because of the imminent danger of explosion.

The bomb-laden plane crashed south of Seoul Tuesday after colliding with a jet plane. The jet pilot parachuted to safety, but an unidentified major flying the second craft crashed with his plane.

The plane carried about a dozen 250-pound bombs and two 1,000 pounders. Some have not been found and three villages have been evacuated until all danger of explosions has passed.

Blind Newsie Fakes Robbery, Faces Charge

BALTIMORE—(AP) — Ben. L. Bond, blind operator of a news stand in the main postoffice here, faced a charge of larceny today, accused of taking $498 he reported someone else had stolen from the stand.

Bond and his wife, also blind, have operated the stand for the Maryland Workshop for the Blind for 20 years.

They reported the theft of $225 in another robbery last April and appealed to the thief to return the money since neither he nor his wife, the parents of three children, would be able to identify him. Bond reported the larger theft Monday.

He was arrested yesterday after telling a post office guard the money had been returned as mysteriously as it had disappeared.

Film's Head Fights Large Damage Claim

LOS ANGELES—(AP)— Movie maker Howard Hughes is not compelled to testify whether he invoked the "morals clause" at the time actor Robert Mitchum was convicted in a marijuana case.

Superior Judge Joseph W. Vickers made the ruling yesterday in connection with screen writer Paul Jarrico's $350,000 damage suit against Hughes and his RKO studio.

Hughes claims Jarrico violated the morals clause in his RKO contract when he declined to tell a congressional committee whether he is or ever was a Communist. Hughes fired Jarrico, who is suing on the ground he was improperly denied screen credit for a movie script.

The court directed Hughes to answer next week whether his studio had given screen credits to other writers in positions similar to that of Jarrico—those who claimed constitutional reasons for refusing to answer whether they were Communists.

Prices Rise Less in U. S. Than in Europe

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. —(AP)—Americans may shudder at current price tags but a United Nations survey indicated today that prices have risen less in the U. S. since 1948 than in such tightly controlled nations as Britain, Norway and Sweden.

Moreover, the U. S. has held the line against inflation better than such uncontrolled countries as Canada, France and Argentina, according to figures released in the U. N.'s latest monthly bulletin of statistics.

The survey showed U. S. prices have gone up 10 per cent since 1948. Figures for other countries included: Britain, 28 per cent; Norway and Sweden, 31; Canada, 21; France, 43; Argentina, 185.

Some experts, however, claim the survey is not a fair guage of county - by - country differences inn cost-of-living. The U. N. takes 1948 as the base year. By that time, these experts contend, the U. S. already had undergone the worst of its postwar inflation but the process was just beginning in many other countries.

Basic foodstuffs, incidentally, are shown by the survey to have risen only 10 percent in the U. S. during the past four years as compared with 21 per cent in Canada, 38 per cent in Sweden and 37 per cent in France. British food prices, in contrast to the rest of the nation's economy, went up only 9 per cent.

Wife 'Cold Cynical,' Says Plane Maker

LOS ANGELES—(AP)— Donald W. Douglas, airplane manufacturer, accuses his wife of 36 years of being "cold, cynical, critical and indifferent" toward him for 15 years before their separation.

Douglas charged in an amended divorce complaint he filed yesterday that Mrs. Charlotte M. Douglas, 60, used vile language and belittled his business ability in the presence of their friends and his business associates.

Attorneys said the new complaint was aimed at inclusion of detailed accusations after she filed a demurrer to the original petition. They have five children.

Artist Colony Founder Honored By Many Greats

PETERBOROUGH, N. H.—(AP)—Three United States senators, a governor and some of the great names in music and literature paid tribute today to Mrs. Marian MacDowell, 84.

They honored her for founding a colony here 45 years ago where talented novelists, playwrights, musicians and artists might work without outside interruption.

Some 20 Pulitzer prize-winning works were written and composed in that colony.

A tribute book made up of letters from former MacDowell colonists was presented the widow of Edward MacDowell, the composer.

Sen. Charles W. Tobey, Sen. Adams, all of New Hampshire, and Sen. George D. Aiken of Vermont, spoke briefly.

Expect More Hot Weather Next 30 Days

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The Weather Bureau said today it expects temperatures to average above seasonal normals over most of the country in the mid-August to mid-September period.

The greatest departures from normal temperature, the bureau said are likely in the Southwest and Appalachian region.

It added in its 30-day outlook: "However, temperatures are expected to average slightly below normal along the northern border from the Pacific Coast eastward to the Great Lakes, and near normal in Florida, Southern Texas, and Costal California.

"Subnormal rainfall is expected to accompany the warm weather in most of the nation, but abundant showers are indicated along the northern and southern borders of the country."

It is believed that the first locomotive used for heavy hauling was built in England in 1801.

Reds Reject Peace Treaty For Austria

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Six years of effort by the Western powers to get Russia to agree to an Austrian peace treaty appeared today to have reached an end.

An appeal by Austria to the United Nations, probably with American support, may be the next move.

The State department announced Friday that Moscow had rejected an abbreviated treaty which the Western powers proposed March 13 in the hope of ending the occupation of Austria and giving that country full independence.

Efforts to reach agreement on a full-length treaty of 59 articles, as compared with eight in the short form, had already broken down.

The Austrian government recently sent a note to members of the United Nations reviewing the six-year history of Austrian peace negotiations between Russia, the United States, Britain and France.

The note added, at an appropriate time, the whole problem might be put before the UN General Assembly.

The first public railroad using steam locomotives was opened in England in 1825.
